

Elizabeth Braasch

Elizabeth Braasch, DVM, received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of California Berkeley prior to completing her Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at the University of California Davis in 2015. She then participated in a rotating internship with an emphasis on emergency medicine at the Pet Emergency Specialty Center in San Diego, before moving to Colorado with her husband in 2016. Since that time, she has worked as an emergency clinician in the Denver area before joining Aspen Meadow Veterinary Specialists in August 2017. Her clinical interests include emergency medicine, anesthesia, and analgesia.
